

Peerless-AV® Exhibits SEAMLESS Connect Universal at InfoComm India 2025

Visitors will experience firsthand how the industry's only truly universal dvLED mounting solution extends dvLED installation boundaries on Booth TE12

St Albans, UK, 12 August 2025 – Global AV technology pioneer Peerless-AV® will be showcasing its new SEAMLESS Connect Universal dvLED Mounting System at InfoComm India 2025, India's premier ProAV and integrated experience solutions exhibition, taking place at Jio World Convention Centre (JWCC) Mumbai, 9-11 September. On TE12, Jasmine Hall 1, this ground-breaking system will be demonstrated to the Indian market for the first time with the opportunity for visitors to get hands-on and learn how the mount and its unique component set enable a faster, more streamlined installation of limitless flat-to-wall and inside/outside corner dvLED video walls.

The slimmest universal dvLED mount on the market, with a minimal 40mm depth, the SEAMLESS Connect Universal dvLED Mounting System delivers the most discreet, ADA-compliant, wall profile available. It is compatible with most latching dvLED cabinets with the flexibility to scale to any size or configuration. 40mm of depth adjustment allows integrators to overcome wall irregularities for a precise fit over a bigger surface area with a handy new gear mechanism that offers greater control of in/out adjustments. The wall plate also includes a 13mm height adjustment to enable quick spacing corrections.

The universal mount's structure has been reinforced, and its total load capacity has dramatically increased enabling installers to skip rows of extrusion and reduce installation time by up to 50%. The unique quick-connect clamp also has a bolstered clamping force and load capacity plus a new lock/unlock lever assures the installer has a secure latch when hanging the display. A jacking screw allows fine micro-adjustment of up to 6mm for cabinet-to-cabinet alignment.

"SEAMLESS Connect Universal is making a big impression on ProAV professionals the world over," said Justin Joy, Senior Manager, Sales – Middle East & India, Peerless-AV. "Since its official launch at InfoComm in Orlando this June, we're excited to be taking it to regional shows and demonstrating all the new enhancements, designed to open doors to more large-scale creative dvLED possibilities in a wide range of application environments. On Booth TE12, we'll be inviting visitors to see and feel the mount's time and cost saving capabilities. It's great to witness that 'oh wow' moment when they realise that they can install extrusion every other row and grasp just how much quicker and hands-free elements of the install can be using handy tools like the redesigned universal spacer and depth adjustment target tool."

Also on the booth will be a range of mounting and support solutions for LCD flat panel displays, including versatile mobile trolleys and the STS650 SmartMount® Universal Scissor Wall Mount for 39" to 85"+ displays. The mount is designed for direct-to-wall and recessed applications in corporate boardrooms, retail stores and other environments where a concealed, flush solution is required with open access for servicing of media components, power and cabling without removing the display. With the ACC-UCM2 optional accessory, a single installer can pre-install, configure and cable AV components ahead of time off-site. The mount's user-centric design offers start-to-finish simplicity with all the adjustment and levelling required to achieve a perfect result.
